About the School of Tribal Legal Studies and Tribal Rights (TLS&TR)

The School of Tribal Legal Studies and Tribal Rights (TLS&TR), KISS Deemed to be University, established in 2017–18, is dedicated to promoting education, research, and community engagement in the areas of tribal rights, indigenous knowledge systems, customary governance, and social justice. Integrating the disciplines of Sociology, Social Work, and Anthropology, the School adopts an interdisciplinary approach to address the legal, social, cultural, and developmental issues affecting tribal communities.

The School emphasizes academic excellence through teaching, research, field-based learning, and extension activities that connect classroom knowledge with community practice. It promotes the study and preservation of indigenous knowledge, cultural heritage, and customary institutions while contributing to evidence-based policy, inclusive governance, and sustainable tribal development.

By fostering collaboration with communities, government agencies, and other stakeholders, the School aims to develop competent professionals, researchers, and leaders committed to protecting tribal rights and advancing inclusive and sustainable development.

About the Department: Sociology

The Department of Sociology, under the School of Tribal Legal Studies and Tribal Rights, KISS Deemed to be University, was established in 2008. The Department addresses emerging academic, developmental, and societal needs through interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary teaching, research, and community engagement. It is committed to advancing the study of sociology with a special focus on tribal societies, indigenous knowledge systems, tribal legal studies, social justice, human rights, and sustainable development. The Department strives to meet local, regional, national, and global standards while preparing socially responsible researchers, academicians, policy professionals, and development practitioners through quality education, field-based learning, and innovation.

This programme emphasizes the multifaceted nature of Sociology by fostering analytical thinking, scientific research methods, and innovation. It also encourages the development of entrepreneurial mindsets and policy-oriented approaches among students, preparing them to become competent researchers, social policy makers, and development practitioners who understand ground realities.

A key component of the programme is hands-on experience through project work, fieldwork, and internships. These experiential learning opportunities are designed to strengthen student's capacities in conducting primary research and engaging directly with communities.

Vision of the School

To emerge as a nationally and internationally recognized centre of excellence in Tribal Legal Studies, Indigenous Rights, and Social Justice through interdisciplinary education, innovative research, advocacy, and meaningful community engagement, contributing to the empowerment and sustainable development of tribal communities.

Mission of the School

- To provide quality interdisciplinary education in Tribal Legal Studies, indigenous rights, customary governance, and social development.
- To promote research, field-based learning, and community engagement to address the legal, social, cultural, and developmental concerns of tribal communities.
- To preserve and strengthen indigenous knowledge systems, customary practices, and tribal cultural heritage through academic and research initiatives.
- To nurture socially responsible professionals, researchers, and leaders with ethical values, critical thinking, and advocacy skills.
- To foster collaboration with government agencies, academic institutions, civil society organizations, and tribal communities for capacity building and sustainable development.
- To contribute to social justice, inclusive growth, cultural preservation, and the achievement of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Programme Overview

Programme Title:

Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Sociology (BA Sociology)

Programme Type:

Undergraduate Programme (As per NEP 2020 framework)

Programme Description:

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Sociology is an undergraduate programme that provides students with a comprehensive understanding of society, culture, social institutions, and contemporary social issues through interdisciplinary learning and research. The curriculum emphasizes tribal societies, social justice, gender equality, sustainable development, and community engagement, while integrating fieldwork and experiential learning. Aligned with NEP 2020 and the National Credit Framework (NCrF), the programme promotes critical thinking, research skills, ethical values, and lifelong learning, contributing to the achievement of relevant Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and preparing graduates for careers in academia, research, civil services, development organizations, and public policy.

Process of Curriculum Development

The School follows a systematic and participatory curriculum development process to ensure academic quality, relevance, and compliance with national educational frameworks. The process includes the following stages:

1. Constitution of the Syllabus Committee comprising departmental faculty members and subject experts to design and revise the curriculum.
2. Stakeholder Consultation involving students, alumni, employers, industry experts, and community representatives to incorporate diverse perspectives and emerging needs.
3. Departmental Review of the proposed curriculum by the School faculty to ensure academic coherence and alignment with programme outcomes.
4. Board of Studies (BoS) Approval, where the curriculum is reviewed and vetted by internal and external experts for quality assurance.
5. Academic Council Approval, granting final institutional approval for implementation.
6. Alignment with National Frameworks, ensuring compliance with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, Choice Based Credit System (CBCS), National Credit Framework (NCrF), and National Higher Education Qualification Framework (NHEQF).

This structured process ensures that the curriculum remains dynamic, outcome-based, learner-centric, and responsive to societal, tribal, and global developmental needs.

Definitions of Components

a) Ability Enhancement Courses (AEC): It refers to the courses enhancing competency in a Modern Indian Language (MIL) and in the English language with special emphasis on language and communication skills not literature, prose, poetry and novel etc.

b) Academic Bank of Credits (ABC): The ABC has been envisaged by the UGC to facilitate the academic mobility of students with the freedom to study across the HEIs in the country with an appropriate 'credit transfer' mechanism from one programme to another, leading to attain a Degree/Diploma/Certificate, etc.

c) Academic Year: Two consecutive semesters constitute one academic year.

d) Choice Based : The students select courses from the prescribed courses i.e., Major, Minor, Multidisciplinary, Ability Enhancement Course (AEC), Skill Enhancement Course (SEC), Value Added Course (VAC), Summer Internship/ Lab/Research.

e) Major is the subject of main focus.

f) Credit Based Semester System (CBSS): Under the CBSS, the requirement for awarding a degree/diploma/Certificate is prescribed in terms of number of credits to be earned.

g) Credit: A unit by which the course work is measured. One credit is equivalent to one hour of lecture or tutorials or two hours of practical work/field work per week in a semester.

h) Minor Course helps a student to gain a broader understanding beyond the major discipline. The subjects mentioned in the minor (in the course structure table) will be offered only if a minimum of 10 students opt for that particular subject.

i) Multidisciplinary: It refers to the courses that a student can opt from other disciplines in order to broaden the intellectual experience.

j) Skills Enhancement Courses (SEC): It refers to the courses aiming at imparting practical skills, hands-on training, soft skills, etc., to enhance the employability of students.

k) Summer Internship/Apprenticeship/Summer Project: It refers to experiential exposure of a student. Summer Internship of 6-8 weeks duration after the completion of the fourth semester, followed by a project report and viva-voce examination during the fifth semester has been made compulsory to enable the students to have hands on experience of real-life business situations.

l) Research has been provided in the Eighth semester (for students securing 7.5 CGPA or above) involving application of knowledge in exploring/critical analysis/solving issues related to a real-life situation.

m) Value Added Courses: It refers to the courses enabling the students to acquire and demonstrate the knowledge and understanding of contemporary society.

NCrF-Aligned Components (National Credit Framework)

1. Operational Definition of Credit (NCrF Standard)

In accordance with the National Credit Framework (NCrF), one (1) credit is equivalent to 30 Notional Learning Hours (NLHs), which include classroom instruction, tutorials, practical/laboratory work, fieldwork, internships, projects, self-study, assignments, and assessments.

Accordingly, a 4-credit course comprises 120 Notional Learning Hours (4 × 30 = 120 hours), distributed across various teaching-learning and assessment activities as prescribed by the curriculum.

NCrF-Compliant Course Engagement Table

Component	Operational Definition	Hours (Example for 4-credit course)
Face-to-Face Lectures	Concept delivery, interactive instruction	45
Tutorials / Labs / Field	Hands-on practice, experimentation	30
Independent Self-Study	Pre-reading, journal review	20
Continuous Assessment	Assignments, quizzes, mid-term	12
Final Semester Exam Preparation	Revision, project completion	13
Total Notional Hours	Must equal 30 hours × credits	120

MOOC Courses (SWAYAM and SWAYAM Plus)

According to the UGC guidelines integrated into the new curriculum structures, Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) are permitted to allow students to take up to 40% of their total courses in a semester through the national MOOC platform, SWAYAM (or SWAYAM Plus for industry-aligned courses).

Credits earned via SWAYAM are mapped directly against the appropriate NHEQF academic level and digitally stored in the student's Academic Bank of Credits (ABC) to count toward their final degree, diploma, or certificate.

Programme Educational Objectives

PEO-1: To prepare students with a foundational understanding of social structures and legal provisions, enabling them to recognize and analyze how these elements shape daily life and community practices.

PEO-2: The programme ensures that students acquire a broad-based introduction to the social sciences, focusing on the core concepts of Sociology, Anthropology, and Social Work. Students will learn basic theoretical frameworks and the essential research methods required to collect, organize, and present social data.

PEO-3: Students will demonstrate the ability to identify social problems, retrieve relevant information, and apply critical thinking to suggest solutions. They will learn to adapt to new social contexts while practicing fundamental sociological research techniques.

PEO-4: Students will demonstrate an understanding of the basic ethical standards governing social research and show proficiency in communicating sociological findings clearly and effectively within a general academic or professional context.

PEO-5: Students will demonstrate the initiative to apply their sociological perspective and analytical skills toward entry-level career opportunities or further academic study, showing an ability to map their knowledge to a professional path.

Programme Outcomes (POs):

Code	Attribute	Description
PO1	Moral & Ethical Values	Demonstrate an understanding of basic social ethics and the importance of social justice. Graduates will act as responsible citizens with sensitivity toward human rights.
PO2	Disciplinary Knowledge	Foundational understanding of core sociological concepts, basic classical theories, and primary social institutions (family, religion, stratification).
PO3	Communication Skills	Ability to express sociological ideas clearly in written and oral forms to peers and the local community.
PO4	Critical Thinking, Problem solving & analytical reasoning	Ability to identify and question everyday "common sense" assumptions about social life using sociological evidence.
PO5	Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS)	Demonstrate an understanding of the Indian Knowledge System by applying sociological perspectives to analyze India's social institutions, cultural diversity, indigenous traditions, ethical values, and contemporary social issues.
PO6	Research-Related Skills	Ability to understand qualitative and quantitative approaches and proficiency in basic data collection (interviews, observation).
PO7	Cooperation/Teamwork	Ability to participate effectively in group projects, respecting diverse viewpoints to achieve shared goals.
PO8	Digital Literacy	Proficiency in using basic ICT tools for academic research, searching online journals, and basic report writing.
PO9	Experiential & Life – long learning	Developing a persistent curiosity about social events and a willingness to learn about global social changes beyond the classroom.
PO10	Leadership Qualities	Preparedness to participate in community service and volunteer for social causes, supporting collective awareness efforts.
PO11	Professional & Decision-making Skills	Adherence to academic integrity and honesty. Ability to make informed choices that reflect social responsibility.
PO12	Environment Awareness and Sustainability	Basic awareness of the relationship between society and the environment and the importance of sustainable development.

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs):

PSO1: Foundational Theory and Social Diversity Develop a basic understanding of core sociological concepts and classical theories. Students will learn to identify the role of social institutions and the impact of diversity—such as gender, caste, and class—in shaping individual experiences within society.

PSO2: Research Ethics and Objectivity Understand the fundamental ethical guidelines for conducting social research. Students will learn the importance of maintaining academic honesty, respecting respondent privacy, and avoiding personal bias when observing social interactions.

PSO3: Basic Research and Data Literacy Acquire introductory skills in gathering and organizing social data. This includes learning how to conduct simple interviews, participate in field observations, and interpret basic social charts, tables, and secondary data.

PSO4: Integrated Social Awareness Learn to apply sociological perspectives to various areas of daily life, such as family, education, and the environment. Students will explore how these different areas interact to influence contemporary social issues at a local and national level.

PSO5: Career Readiness and Practical Skills Equip graduates with the versatile analytical and communication skills needed for entry-level roles in social services, community work, local administration, or NGOs. This provides a stepping stone for professional growth or further academic study in the social sciences.

Programme Credit Scheme (as per NEP 2020 – FYUG Model)

The Four Year Undergraduate Programme in Sociology is structured in accordance NEP 2020. The programme follows a semester system and adopts a flexible credit-based structure with multiple entry and exit options.

- One-Year (Certificate Programme): Minimum 40 credits
- Two-Year (Diploma Programme): Minimum 80 credits
- Three-Year (Bachelor's Degree): Minimum 120 credits
- Four-Year (Bachelor's Degree with Single Major with/ Without Research): Minimum 162 credits
- Four-Year (Bachelor's Degree with Double Major with/ Without Research): Minimum 194 credits

Students are required to earn credits through a balanced combination of Major course, Minor Course, skill-based courses, internships, fieldwork, and research projects. Credit transfer across institutions is enabled through the Academic Bank of Credits (ABC), ensuring mobility and flexibility in higher education.

The award of degree will be as per the University and UGC norms, with students encouraged to pursue the Honours with Research track in the fourth year to strengthen research orientation and career readiness.

AEC I

Alternative English

Course Code: AE14009

Refer to the Department of English (SCTLL)

Course Objectives:

- Develop critical reading and analytical skills through the study of prose, poetry, and short fiction.
- Understand myriad literary forms, themes, and stylistic features of English literature of different cultural and historical contexts.
- Enhance appreciation of literary texts by examining human core values, ethics, social issues, and aesthetic expression.
- Sharpen English language proficiency through the study and practice of grammar, vocabulary, comprehension, and writing skills.
- Refine communication skills, enabling students to express ideas effectively in both written and spoken English.

Course Outcomes:

Analyze and interpret prose, poetry, and short fiction by identifying their themes, literary techniques, and cultural significance.

- Evaluate the ideas and perspectives presented in literary texts and relate them to contemporary social, ethical, and human concerns.
- Demonstrate an understanding of major literary forms, including essays, short stories, sonnets, and modern poetry.
- Apply the rules of English grammar, including tenses, articles, prepositions, subject–verb agreement, and sentence transformations, in effective communication.
- Develop proficiency in reading comprehension, précis writing, and coherent written expression for academic and professional contexts.

Course Contents:

Unit I: Prose

- Francis Bacon- Of Studies, Of Truth
- A. P. J. Abdul Kalam – My Vision for India

Unit II: Short Fiction

- O. Henry – The Gift of the Magi
- Mahasweta Devi – Draupadi (translated by Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak)

Unit III: Poetry

- William Shakespeare – Sonnet 116, 138
- Jayanta Mahapatra – Hunger

Unit IV: Language and Communication Skills

- Tenses, Articles, Prepositions, Subject–Verb Agreement Transformation of Sentences (Active–Passive, Direct–Indirect) Comprehension and Precis Writing

Information Technology and Communication

Code	Course Title	Credit	L-T-P
CS15001	Information Technology and Communication	3	2-0-1

Course Objectives:

- To make them aware about the basics of computers and its evolution.
- Provide knowledge of different units of computer like processing unit, I/O units, and storage unit.
- Learn about number systems and softwares.
- Gain knowledge of networking concepts, data communication, internet etc.

Course Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1 (Knowledge/Remember): Recall and describe the fundamental concepts of Information Technology, including computer hardware, software, operating systems, databases, computer networks, and information systems.
- CO2 (Understanding): Explain and interpret the principles of number systems, data representation, binary arithmetic, logic gates, and digital data processing.
- CO3 (Application): Apply the concepts of computer networks, Internet technologies, intranets, extranets, communication systems, and productivity software to solve basic computing and communication problems.
- CO4 (Analysis): Analyze and compare different communication technologies, network architectures, information systems, and IT infrastructure to identify appropriate solutions for organizational and personal computing needs.
- CO5 (Synthesis/Evaluation): Design, evaluate, and demonstrate the effective use of Information Technology tools, communication systems, and digital resources to enhance information management, collaboration, productivity, and decision-making in diverse application domains.

Course Duration: 34 hours

Course Syllabus:

Unit I: Introduction to Information Technology [9 Classroom Contact Hours]

What is Computer, Evolution and Types of Computer, Basic Applications of Computer, Components of Computer System, Functional Unit of Computer, Input/Output Devices, Computer Memory: Types of memory, RAM, ROM, Registers, Concepts of Hardware and Software, Computer Languages.

Unit II: Computer Number Systems [8 Classroom Contact Hours]

Introduction to number system: Binary, Octal, Decimal, Hexadecimal (characteristics of each number system), Conversion from one number system to other Complements of number systems and arithmetic operations, Computer codes (BCD, EBCDIC, ASCII, Code, Gray code, Excess-3 code and Unicode)

Unit III: Software Concept [7 Classroom Contact Hours]

Software, Types of software: System software, Application Software, Utility Software, System software: Operating System, Needs for OS, Functions of OS, Language processors (Assembler, Interpreter, Compiler), Application Software: General purpose application (word processor, spreadsheet package, presentation software). Specific purpose application software (Payroll systems, HRMS-Human Resource Management System), Utility Software: Compression tools, Disk Defragmenter, Antivirus

Unit IV: Introduction to Computer Network [10 Classroom Contact Hours]

Data Communication: Definition, Types of data and communication modes- simplex, half duplex, full duplex, Topology, Network: LAN, MAN, WAN, PAN, Internet Architecture:

Introduction, History, Internet Architecture Components, Internet Application, Internet open issues, Intranets, Extranets, Websites,

Total Practical / Lab Experiments: [22 Contact Hours]

- Perform basic computer operations, file and folder management, and operating system configuration.
- Create professional documents using a word processing tool with formatting, tables, images, references, and mail merge.
- Design spreadsheets using formulas, functions, charts, conditional formatting, and PivotTables for data analysis.
- Develop effective multimedia presentations using presentation software with animations, transitions, hyperlinks, and multimedia elements.
- Create online forms and conduct surveys using cloud-based collaboration tools such as Google Forms or Microsoft Forms.
- Configure and use cloud storage and collaboration platforms for file sharing, document editing, and team collaboration.
- Perform internet-based information retrieval using advanced search techniques and evaluate the credibility of online resources.
- Configure and use email services, video conferencing, instant messaging, and collaborative communication tools for professional communication.
- Demonstrate cybersecurity practices by implementing password management, encryption, antivirus tools, phishing awareness, and safe internet usage.
- Develop a mini project integrating office productivity tools, cloud services, digital communication platforms, and internet resources to solve a real-world problem.

Environment Education and Disaster Management

Course Category	Course Code	Course Title	Credit	L	T	P
Value Added Course - 1	VA16201	Environment Education and Disaster Management	4	3	0	1

Lectures: 45
Practical: 30

Learning Objectives: The objective is to make students aware about the environmental functions and issues.

Pedagogy: Lectures, Power Point Presentation, Industrial Visit/Practical, Assignments, Case discussion, Projects and Seminars

Course Contents:

Unit I: Humans and the Environment (4 Lectures)

The man-environment interactions: Human as hunger-gatherers; Origin of agriculture; Great ancient civilizations and the environment; Industrial revolution and its impact on the environment; Population growth and natural resource exploitation; Concept of sustainable development, Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Unit II: Natural Resources and Sustainable Development (8 Lectures)

Overview of natural resources, renewable and non-renewable resources. Biotic resources: Major type of biotic resources-forests, grassland, wetlands, wildlife. Water resources: Types of water resources-fresh water and marine; Availability and use of water resources; Environmental impact of over-exploitation, issues and challenges; Conflicts over water. Soil and mineral resources: Energy resources: Renewable and non-renewable sources of energy; Non-conventional energy sources-solar, wind, tidal, hydro, geothermal, biomass, hydrogen and fuel cells; Implications of energy use on the environment.

Unit III: Conservation of Biodiversity and Ecosystems (6 Lectures)

Biodiversity as a natural resource; Biodiversity in India and the world; Biodiversity hotspots; Endangered species, Red data book. Threats to biodiversity and ecosystems: Commercial exploitation of species; Invasive species. Major conservation policies: in-situ conservation approaches; Major protected areas; National and International initiatives for biodiversity conservation; the role of traditional knowledge, community-based conservation. Land use and Land cover change: deforestation, desertification, urbanization, Loss of Biodiversity and it's impact.

Unit IV: Environmental Pollution (8 Lectures)

Environmental issues at local, regional, and global levels. Air, noise, water, soil, thermal and radioactive pollution. Point sources and non-point sources of pollution.

Air pollution: Sources of air pollution; Primary and secondary pollutants; particulate matter and sulphur dioxide; Volatile Organic compounds (VOCs), Polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs) and Persistent organic pollutants (POPs); acid rain; smog, Ozone hole. National Ambient Air Quality Standards.

Water pollution: Sources of water pollution; River, lake and marine pollution, groundwater pollution; water quality, Water quality parameters and standards; adverse health impacts of water pollution on human and aquatic life.

Soil pollution: Soil pollutants and their sources; Solid waste and their recycling. Noise pollution: Definition of noise; Unit of measurement of noise pollution; Mineral exploitation; Environmental problems due to extraction of minerals and use; Degradation of soil quality and impact on agriculture productivity.

Noise pollution; Noise standards; adverse impact of noise on human health.

Thermal and Radioactive pollution: Sources and impact on human health and ecosystems.

Unit V : Climate Change: Impacts, Adaptation and Mitigation (5 Lectures)

Understanding climate change, Projections of global climate change with reference to temperature, rainfall, climate variability and extreme events; Climate change projections for the Indian sub-continent.

Impacts of climate change on ocean and land systems; Sea level rise, changes in marine and costal ecosystems; Impacts on forests and natural ecosystem; Impacts on animal species, agriculture, health, urban infrastructure; Climate-resilient development; Indigenous knowledge for adaption to climate change.

Mitigation of climate change: Green House Gas (GHG) Reduction vs. sink enhancement; Concept of carbon intensity, energy intensity and carbon neutrality; Energy efficiency measures; Renewable energy sources; Carbon capture and storage.

Unit VI :Environmental Management (6 Lectures)

Introduction to environmental laws and regulations: Constitutional provisions- Article 48A, Article 51A (g) and other environmental rights, Environmental legislations on the forest, wildlife and pollution control. Environmental audit and impact assessment; Waste Management- Concept of 3R (Reduce, Recycle and Recycle) and sustainability.

Unit VII :Environmental Treaties and Legislation (8 Lectures)

Major International Environmental Agreements: UN Conference on Human Environment 1972, Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD); Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety; Nagoya Protocol on Access and Benefit-sharing ; Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna(CITES); Ramsar Convention on Wetlands of International Importance; United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD); Vienna Convention for the Protection of the Ozone Layer; Montreal Protocol on Substances that Deplete the Ozone Layer and the Kigali Amendment; Basel Convention on the Control of Trans boundary Movements of Hazardous Wastes and their Disposal; Rotterdam Convention on the Prior Informed Consent Procedure for Certain Hazardous Chemicals and Pesticides in International Trade; Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants; Minamata Convention on Mercury; United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC); Kyoto Protocol; Paris Agreement; India’s status as a party to major conventions

Major Indian Environmental Legislations: The Wild Life (Protection) Act, 1972; The Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974; The Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980; The Air(Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981 The Environment (Protection) Act, 1986; The Biological Diversity Act, 2002; The Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006; Noise Pollution (Regulation and Control) Rules, 2000; Industry-specific environmental standards; Waste management rules, National Green Tribunal.

Major International organizations and initiatives: United Nations Environment Programme(UNEP), International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN), World Commission on Environment and Development (WCED), United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), and Man and the Biosphere(MAB) programme.

Unit VIII: Disaster Management (30 Practical)

Concept of Hazards, Disasters, Natural and man made hazards, Types of hazards, Concept of disaster management, Vulnerability and risk. Nature and characteristics of hazards: Flood, Cyclone, Drought, and Earthquake. Man made hazards – Industrial and Fire.

Disaster management cycle, Pre disaster management, during disaster management, Post Disaster review and management, Preventing, mitigation, preparedness, Adaptation. Disaster Management Plan at National Level, State Level, District Level and Community Level.

Learning Outcomes:

CO1. Students will develop a comprehensive understanding of the complex interactions between humans and the environment, tracing historical developments, analyzing contemporary challenges, and exploring sustainable solutions.

CO2. Students will be able to critically analyze the impact of human activities on natural resources, biodiversity, ecosystems, and the climate, evaluating the effectiveness of conservation efforts and mitigation strategies.

CO3. Students will gain an interdisciplinary perspective by integrating knowledge from fields such as ecology, geography, sociology, economics, and policy studies to address environmental issues holistically.

CO4. Students will cultivate problem-solving skills by applying scientific principles, analytical tools, and ethical considerations to devise innovative solutions for environmental challenges at local, regional, and global scales.

CO5. Students will develop the capacity for active engagement and advocacy in environmental stewardship, recognizing their role as responsible global citizens and agents of positive change in promoting sustainability and resilience.

SDGs Mapping of the course

SDG No.	SDG Title	Nature of Contribution
SDG 6	Clean Water & Sanitation	Covers water pollution, quality parameters, and standards for fresh and marine water.
SDG 7	Affordable & Clean Energy	Explores non-conventional energy (Solar, Wind, Hydrogen fuel cells) and its environmental implications.
SDG 11	Sustainable Cities & Communities	(Disaster Management) focuses on making communities resilient to floods, cyclones, and earthquakes.
SDG 13	Climate Action	Entirely dedicated to Greenhouse Gas reduction, carbon neutrality, and climate adaptation strategies.
SDG 14 & 15	Life Below Water / On Land	Focuses on biodiversity hotspots, endangered species, and the protection of marine/terrestrial ecosystems.

Effective Communication for Social Impact

Course Category	Course Code	Course Title	Credits	L	T	P
Skill Enhancement Course-II	TS25001	Effective Communication for Social Impact	3	2	1	0

Course Objectives:

I. This unit prepares students to engage effectively with communities during fieldwork by developing culturally sensitive communication skills.
II. It emphasizes building rapport and trust, navigating cross-cultural communication challenges, and understanding local languages, terminologies, and non-verbal cues.
III. The unit integrates anthropological, sociological and social work principles to help students interpret cultural context during interactions. Ethical considerations, including informed consent and respect for local communication norms, are central to the training.
IV. Through practical exercises like role-plays, mock interviews, and language practice, students learn to apply these skills in real-world fieldwork settings, ensuring accurate data collection and respectful community engagement.

Course Contents:

Unit-I (20 classroom contact hours)

- Culture, Language and Communication: Nature, origin, and characteristics of language; verbal and non-verbal communication; social context of language use.
- Research communication Tool and Techniques: Interview, Questionnaire, Recording and Transcribing Communication, Reflection and Evaluation.

Unit-II (20 classroom contact hours)

- Role of Communication in Society: role plays, and debates on social issues—influence on attitudes, behaviour, and social policy.
- Active Listening and Empathy in Communication; Engaging with Marginalised Communities and Understanding Cultural Dimensions

Unit-III (20 classroom contact hours)

- Addressing language differences through interpreters or bilingual community members; the risks of misinterpretation and how to mitigate these challenges; the role of confidentiality in building trust and effective communication; Creating feedback loops to improve communication strategies for future interactions and intervention

Course Learning Outcomes:

CO-1: Demonstrate a fundamental understanding of the nature of language and the interplay between verbal and non-verbal communication within diverse social and cultural contexts.

CO-2: Apply essential research communication tools, including interviewing and transcribing techniques, while maintaining a rigorous process of reflection and evaluation.

CO-3: Execute effective communication strategies, such as role-plays and debates, to influence social attitudes, public behavior, and the formulation of social policy.

CO-4: Exhibit proficiency in active listening and empathetic engagement when working with marginalized communities, ensuring a deep understanding of their unique cultural dimensions.

CO-5: Manage linguistic diversity and ethical challenges by effectively utilizing interpreters, maintaining strict confidentiality, and establishing feedback loops for sustainable social intervention.

Course Title: Internship

Code	Course Title	Credit	L-T-P
IP37081	Internship	2	0-0-2

Course Objectives:

The internship provides students with practical exposure to professional work environments by applying academic knowledge to real-world problems. It develops technical competence, problem-solving ability, communication, teamwork, ethical practices, and project management skills while fostering industry readiness, professional responsibility, lifelong learning, and experiential understanding of organizational practices.

Course Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1 (Knowledge/Remember): Recall and describe the organizational structure, professional practices, workplace ethics, safety regulations, and operational procedures followed in the internship organization.
- CO2 (Understanding): Explain and interpret industry requirements, project workflows, organizational processes, professional responsibilities, and the application of theoretical concepts in real-world environments.
- CO3 (Application): Apply domain knowledge, technical skills, modern tools, and problem-solving techniques to complete assigned tasks and projects effectively in a professional setting.
- CO4 (Analysis): Analyze real-world problems, evaluate alternative solutions, interpret project outcomes, and recommend appropriate improvements based on technical and organizational requirements.
- CO5 (Synthesis/Evaluation): Demonstrate professional competence by planning, executing, documenting, and presenting internship work while exhibiting effective communication, teamwork, ethical conduct, project management, and lifelong learning skills.

- To understand the meaning and nature of hypotheses and learn different methods of data collection.
- To gain knowledge knowledge about sampling and various types of sampling techniques used in research
- To understand graphic presentation of data and measures of central tendency for data analysis.

Course Contents:

Unit-I: Introduction to Social Research(15 classroom contact hours)

- Social Research: Meaning, Nature and Importance,
- Types of Social Research, Basic and Applied research,Historical and Empirical

Unit-II: Scientific methods and types of research design (15 classroom contact hours)

- Basic Steps of Scientific method,
- Research Design: Exploratory,Descriptive and Experimental.

Unit-III: Hypothesis and Methods of data collection(15 classroom contact hours)

- Hypothesis: Meaning and Characterisics of good hypothesis
- Sources of Data: Primary and Secondary;
- Methods of Data Collection: Observation, Interview, Questionnaire, Schedule , Casestudy,Focus Group Discussion

Unit-IV: Sampling(15 classroom contact hours)

- Sampling : Meaning and types of sampling

Unit-V: Statistics and graphical presentation(15 classroom contact hours)

- Diagrammatic and Graphic Presentation of Data
- Measures of Central Tendency-Mean, Media, Mode, Standard Deviation

Course Outcomes:

CO1: The students will be able to understand the various types of research and aspects of research process .
CO2: The students will be able to analyse the nature of science and social science as methods of inquiries.
CO3: The students will gain an insight into the qualitative, quantitative and interpretive methods of research.
